

Roker International Properties Inc And Another v Couvaras And Wolf

Citation:

[2000] 2 FLR 976

Date:

17.08.2000

Court:

High Court of Justice Family Division

Comment:

The wife brought proceedings for financial relief against the husband following an overseas divorce pursuant to Matrimonial and Family Proceedings Act 1984, Part III, and two companies were added as respondents. The district judge ordered six persons, not parties to the proceedings, to attend an inspection appointment (formerly a production appointment), and to produce specified documents. The two companies appealed the production orders on the basis that there was no jurisdiction to make production orders in proceedings for financial relief following overseas divorce. The wife brought proceedings for financial relief against the husband following an overseas divorce pursuant to Matrimonial and Family Proceedings Act 1984, Part III, and two companies were added as respondents. The district judge ordered six persons, not parties to the proceedings, to attend an inspection appointment (formerly a production appointment), and to produce specified documents. The two companies appealed the production orders on the basis that there was no jurisdiction to make production orders in proceedings for financial relief following overseas divorce.

Barrister:

Susan Stamford